LINKING YOUTH:

A Directory of Youth Serving Organizations in B.C.

B.C. Youth Council, March 1992

Victoria, B.C.

Introduction

In an effort to inform youth on various activities in B.C., we have attempted to contact and include as many organizations as possible which meet the following criteria: non-profit, non-government and provincially focused. With the exception of Youth Councils and Youth Centres, we have not attempted to identify or list all of the individual agencies in specific communities.

Some of the organizations may not exclusively serve youth, but youth do form a substantial portion of their clientele. We acknowledge that since this is the first printing Linking Youth, the directory is likely going to be incomplete. Therefore, if your organization should be in the directory and fits the above criteria, please forward completed information sheet in the back of this directory by October 15, 1992, to:

Joan Mason, Administrator
British Columba Youth Council
Fifth Floor, 1483 Douglas St.
Victoria, B.C.
V8W 3K4
Phone: 387-9167 or Fax: 387-9142

The directory will be updated on a yearly basis. Inclusion in this directory does not imply that the B.C. Youth Council endorses the programs or policies of the agencies listed.

If you are interested in organizations not listed in Linking Youth, consult your local Community Services Association for specific information in your area. Your local association may even have a directory which will supplement the information in this directory. It may also be helpful to visit your local library to find other youth directories.

For provincial government programs, see a copy of The Next Step, available from your local government agent or the B.C. Youth Council. You can also consult Hot 100: A Quick Guide to Federal Programs and Services for Youth which is available by writing to: Public Enquiry Centre, Employment and Immigration Canada, Ottawa-Hull, K1A 0J9.

How to Use Linking Youth

The youth serving organizations have been broken down into 21 categories (see the Table of Contents on page 3). Within each category, each entry is separated by a line -- thin lines separate branch entries for the same organization and bold lines separate different organizations.

For organizations with several branches, therefore several enties, the services are described under the first entry in the list.

The categories and organizations within the categories are in alphabetical order; therefore, if will be useful to scan the entire entry of on organization for possible branch offices in your area. (For example, Junior Forest Wardens has a number of branch clubs throughout B.C. Scan the AREA SERVED information line for your community.) If there is only one Head Office listed, contact them for information on the group nearest your community.

Be sure to look up related categories when looking for specific organizations because each organization may have a variety of programs, but it will only be listed under one category.

What is the B.C. Youth Council?

The B.C. Youth Council is a direct link between the youth of B.C. and their provincial government. Our mandate is: to organize regional discussion with youth to identify common ideas, goals and opportunities; to present the views and aspirations of B.C. Youth to the government and the public; to provide input into the development of programs and services for young people; and to organize and implement the Youth Grants program and ensure efficient distribution of the funds.

During the International year of Youth in 1985 the government reinforced its commitment to the young people of the province by designating a Minister Responsible for Youth. In 1985 the minister appointed the B.C. Youth Council to serve as a forum for young people's ideas and aspirations. This is now the Minister of Advanced Education, Training and Technology, the Honourable Tom Perry.

The Council consists of up to 16 people aged 15 to 24 who represent the varied social and ethnic groups, career interests and regions of the province. The seven regions are: Vancouver Island/Coast, Lower Mainland/Coast, Thompson/Okanagan, Kootenays, Cariboo, North Coast and Peace River.

Members set up Regional Committees which meet to generate ideas and recommendations to pass on to the government, providing advice on both a reactive and proactive basis. If you'd like to be a voice for youth and become involved with the Youth Council by becoming a representative or a member of a Regional Committee in your area, contact:
